

Fiona died peacefully on March 4th, 2018 after a short but fierce battle against lung cancer. She was the beloved wife of David McPherson, who passed away on September 12th 2012, devoted mother of Catherine, and loving sister of Stella and Bill. She will be deeply missed by many. After working as a paediatrician serving remote communities in northern Scotland then in Newfoundland and Labrador, Fiona worked as a child psychiatrist for 40 years with the Montreal Children's Hospital. She was a wonderful healer and teacher who loved her work deeply and changed the lives of so many. She will be forever remembered for her vibrant laugh and quick smile, her deep kindness and compassion, her patience and thoughtfulness, and her spirit of adventure.
