

Title:

Crafting a space for gender and sexual diversities in psychoanalysis.

Summary:

This interregional panel will provide a snapshot of the work of the Sexual and Gender Diversity Studies Committee (S&GDSCo) is doing, and present the guidelines for the 2021 S&GDSCo Paper award.

Abstract:

This interregional panel will provide a snapshot of the work of the Sexual and Gender Diversity Studies Committee (S&GDSCo) is doing. Our mandate comprises, the creation of a place within organized psychoanalysis in which the many questions and complexities that surround sexual and gender diversity can be studied and considered; and to develop a biannual award

In an attempt to initiate this dialogue the S&GDSCo regional co-chairs Leticia Glocer Fiorini (Latin America, Buenos Aires) and Victor Bonfilio (North America, San Francisco), with Eva Reichtel (Berlin) and Dana Amir (Israel, both committee members for Europe) will present a brief summary of the regional work that is currently happening at the IPA with a particular emphasis in the subject of the feminine. Marco Posadas, overall chair of the S&GDSCo will present the call for papers and the guidelines for the 2021 S&GDSCo paper award.

Key words: Gender, Sexuality, Non-binary.

90 minute-panel

Chair: Marco Posadas (Canada)

Presenters: Victor Bonfilio (North America, USA), Leticia Glocer Fiorini ( Latin America, Argentina), Dana Amir (EU, Israel) and Eva Reichelt (Europe, Germany)

Learning objectives

1. Participants will be able to explore and discuss current trends in psychoanalytic thinking regarding gender and sexual diversity.
2. Participants will be able to identify useful theoretic constructs that enhanced our understanding of sexual and gender diversity.
3. Participants will integrate and inter-regional perspective to clinical practice with gender diverse patients.
